Yellow Rock Resources Sees Results from the Aggressive Exploration Program of its Portfolio of Highly Prospective Vanadium and Uranium Tenements

Since its ASX listing in February 2007, Yellow Rock Resources has aggressively pursued the potential represented in its portfolio of tenements that are prospective for vanadium and uranium.

Reflecting its success to date, the Company has received encouraging results from an airborne geophysics program at its Turner's Dome tenement that has identified eight significant radiometric uranium-count anomalies.

Mr. John Geary, Yellow Rock's Director, gladly found the time to give the Australian Investor an update on the Company's progress to date, highlighting the significance of its recent announcement.

"We are beginning to see results from the work that we have undertaken during the past 12 months," Mr. Geary explained to the Australian Investor, "We have a busy year planned to continue to advance Yellow Rock's project and to capitalise on the strength of our two pronged focus of vanadium and uranium."

"We are currently awaiting the results from this drill program," Mr. Geary noted.

According to Mr. Geary the current uranium and vanadium markets are being driven by the demand for these commodities in China, which means there should be an established, willing market for the Company's products.

Mr. Geary concluded, "We are very excited by the potential represented in Yellow Rock's asset base, especially Gabanintha. The project has a strong grade of vanadium at 0.8%, which is twice the grade of some of the other deposits in the area. We are looking forward to upgrading this resource while continuing exploration at our other tenements to maximize the potential value for our shareholders."
